What is Kingdom Builders?

Twice each year (Spring and Fall) youth gather on a Saturday morning for a full day of ministry. Young people from churches around Middle District (Chesterfield, Amelia, Powhatan, South Richmond) come to serve and become the hands and feet of Jesus by helping with projects such as painting, yard work, ramp building, etc.

It is a one-day, local, hands-on mission project that coordinates students with skilled carpenters, painters, landscapers, and other caring adults to make an impact on the lives of senior citizens and others who might need a hand with their homes or yards — and leave an impact on our lives along the way!

Why one-day?

Why local?

Many churches participate in week-long mission trips to far away places. These are great, and often very rewarding both for the servant and the persons being served. But not everyone can go on these.

- An alternative to bigger trips
- Training for bigger trips

Kingdom Builders offers an alternative that is both local and short by comparison. It offers not only a local, one-day opportunity for those who cannot make larger trips, but it also offers an opportunity for training before the big trip.

- It's affordable

As a one-day project that is also local and supported by Middle District offerings, Kingdom Builders charges students a minimal registration fee, allowing more people to participate.

What types of work do you do?

We do anything from light construction (home repair and ramps) to painting, landscaping, and yard work.

What skills do participants need?

A willing heart! ... But if you have great building or painting or landscaping skills, that's even better!

What if I know people who need help?

Simply contact the office (see back) and we will follow up with you for an assessment.
